

Matthew Irvine Sings at the Jays Game

June, 2009

On June 27th, 2009, the ALS Society held their annual Walk for ALS in Kingston, Ontario. Matthew Irvine, along with the efforts of his team, helped raise over $47,000 for ALS research. Matthew lost his father, Maurice Irvine, to a two and a half year battle with this devastating disease on June 24th, 2009.

In honour of his team's fundraising efforts to support ALS research, Matthew was asked by the ALS Society to sing the national anthems for both Canada and the US at the Blue Jay's game on Wednesday, August 26th, 2009.

We would like to congratulate Matthew on his outstanding efforts to fight this disease and wish him continued support.
